FACULTY

Stéphane Braconnier

Professor of Law, Paris II Panthéon-Assas University (Sorbonne Universités)

He manages the Master program in "Economic Public Law" and is also Dean of Sorbonne-Assas International Law School – Asia, set up in Singapore in 2011. He holds undisputed expertise in several fields of Public Business law: Public Procurement law, outsourcing of public activities, Public-Private Partnerships, Energy and Public Competition law.

He is the author of numerous publications on these subjects and has frequently moderated seminars and training sessions in both France and abroad.

Daniel Cohen

Professor of Private Law, Paris II Panthéon-Assas University

He manages the Professional Master programme in "International Business Law". He is also Dean of Sorbonne-Assas International Law School.

He teaches International Arbitration, Business and Trade International Law and Company Law. Considered as an expert in these fields, he is the author of numerous publications on these subjects. Member of the Board of the French Committee for Arbitration, he is also Member of the French Committee for Private International Law and Member of the ICC Court of Arbitration's Panel of Arbitrators.

He is a very well-known arbitrator and serves very often in international Arbitral Tribunals (as Chairman, co-arbitrator or sole arbitrator; ad hoc and institutional arbitration: ICC, UNCITRAL, AFA, CEPANI, etc.).

Caroline Bérubé

Caroline Berube is the Managing Partner of HJM Asia Law (with offices in China and Singapore). She is admitted to practice in New York and Singapore and holds a BCL (civil law) and an LL.B. (common law) from McGill University, Canada.

She studied Chinese law at the National University of Singapore in the 90s and was one of the first foreign lawyers to be admitted to Singapore. Caroline has been working in Asia for more than 17 years with SMEs, MNCs and foreign banks, advising them in the fields of commercial law, IP, HR and M&A. With an extensive presence on the ground in Asia, she is well versed in the opportunities and risks associated with most Asian jurisdictions.

The Sorbonne-Assas International Law School Short Program is a 3-week academic program, giving the students an in-depth and concrete knowledge on international business transactions law.

This program allows students to get familiar with International Business Law major topics and acquire a theoretical and practical understanding through lectures, case studies, group work and other exercises. The Sorbonne-Assas International Law School Singapore campus is located in the INSEAD Business School campus, easy access and relaxed environment. The Winter Short Program is also an opportunity to discover the city of Singapore.
